The following letter-form was brought about as a means of teaching my children the Word of God through the mail. And of course, quite naturally so, that's the reason I begin these letters with "Dear Children" and end them with "Love Dad". So for the rest of you who participate in these weekly messages, please keep their original intended purpose in mind.

19 October, 2008

Dear Children,

“The heart is deceitful (H6121) above all things, and desperately wicked (H605): who can know it?”
(Jeremiah 17:9 KJV)

What a way to start off a sermonet...and it's gonna get a whole lot worse! I mean I can guarantee that what I'm about to show you will make your blood boil and your stomach crawl...and it has everything to do with “those” who've been empowered to run our country. In fact today's message – “Nation Against Nation, And Earthquakes In Divers Places!” – is kinda like a continuation of our most recent expose “Vote? Why Bother!” And with that in mind, let's take a closer look at the very descriptive Words that God has used to describe the unimaginable “heart” of our United States Government:

Deceitful (H6121) - From H6117; in the original sense, a knoll (as swelling up); in the denominative sense (transitively) fraudulent or (intransitively) tracked: - crooked, deceitful, polluted. (Strong's Hebrew And Greek Dictionary)

Desperately Wicked (H605) - A primitive root; to be frail, feeble, or (figuratively) melancholy: - desperate (-ly wicked), incurable, sick, woeful. (Strong's Hebrew And Greek Dictionary)

Now please allow me to paint you a vivid picture of those very descriptive words: “crooked, deceitful, polluted, desperately wicked, incurable, sick, and woeful!” Because you see it wasn't too awful long ago that we made the acquaintance of a man by the name of “James” who was/is a “prophet”, and he didn't even know it! Not only did he foresee the destruction of the Twin Towers on “9-11”, but he also had repeated prophetic visions of the “12-26” massacre. I mean months before the Asian tsunami actually hit, James would envision the wave of destruction taking it's deadly toll and say to himself, “That took care of them!” James knew what he saw, and he knew what he spoke, but he had no earthly idea what it all meant...that is until a few months ago when I explained it to him.

You see the way this Asian tsunami came about was that our Government (USA) asked the Indonesian Government to open up the straits of Malacca and join in the fight against terrorism. Our Government (USA) wanted to use their waterway for our warships, but they refused! So what happened next? Would you believe they suddenly decided to cooperate after getting hit by a very destructive wave of water? Amazing!

And with that in mind, let's take a closer look at the events of December 26th 2004. Because it was on that day in history when a 9.0 magnitude earthquake (actually 6.4) occurred in the Indian Ocean off the western coast of northern Sumatra and Indonesia. The catastrophic results over the next seven hours were massive 50 foot (15 meter) high waves that devastated Indonesia, Sri Lanka, India, Thailand, and other coastal nations – instantly killing more than 150,000 innocent people.

Twelve days later (January 7th 2005) U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell toured the devastation in Indonesia's Aceh province. In his own words, this is what he saw: “With respect to what I've seen in the course of my career, I've been in war and I've been in a number of hurricanes, tornadoes and other relief operations but I have never seen anything like this...Only by seeing it on the ground can you really appreciate what it must have been like on that terrible day."

Then on January 8th 2005, United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan viewed much of the same area. After a helicopter flight over Indonesia's Sumatra island, he spoke the following in amazement: "You wonder where are the people? What has happened to them?"

Such utter devastation was also witnessed by the crewmembers of the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln, whose SH-60 Seahawk helicopters were the first element of the world's relief effort to reach the remote areas of northern Sumatra. The ship's Commander, Jon Baca, had the following to say about what he saw: "The destruction is biblical in proportion. The pictures I've seen on the news cannot capture what it looks like. Whole towns and villages for miles down the coast have been completely washed away. Only the naked eye can consume the scene for what has happened."

So, who do you think would be insane enough to kill more than 150,000 innocent civilians in order to maintain their control of power?

With that question in mind, let's go back to that fateful day on December the 26th 2004. At that time I was living with another prophet by the name of Johannes (Yonnie) Hiram. After the tsunami was announced on TV news, Yonnie told me that he had a very strange feeling it was not a "natural" disaster as reported. So I told him to pray about it, and he did, and the answer he got was through a vision. In fact what he saw in his vision were men diving to the bottom of the ocean and planting devices on the ocean floor. However, Yonnie wasn't at all sure what it meant, so I prayed about it. And what I got from the Lord was that explosive devices caused the earthquake, and they were planted on the ocean floor and detonated under direct orders from President George W. Bush. WOW!

But that ain't even all! Because you see it was several days later that the Lord directed me to do an Internet Google search for "Asian Tsunami" where He led me to an article written by an Australian seismologist [<http://www.vialls.com/subliminalsuggestion/tsunami.html>]. In fact the following is the introduction to that same article posted January the 5th 2005:

Despite a natural human tendency to be shocked into silence by the sheer number of dead and injured across Asia on 26 December 2004, and despite also being slightly fearful of losing personal credibility because of the magnitude of the apparent crime, there are many provable irregularities in the official American tsunami story that simply have to be recorded now, or forever be lost in the sands of time.

It is beyond any doubt that a giant tidal wave (tsunami) smashed its way through South and South East Asia, and still had enough legs to continue all the way across the Indian Ocean to Africa, where it killed and injured a few hundred more. So the only question we must ask, is whether this tsunami was a natural or man-made catastrophe? A natural event would be horrifying enough, but if the tsunami was man-made, then we are unquestionably looking at the biggest single war crime in global history.

To make any sense at all of the irregularities, we must start at the very beginning, and then follow the course of events as they unfold, especially events in the immediate vicinity of the real tsunami epicenter, because the latter is quite different from the location being remorselessly peddled by the New York Times and CNN.

At midday local Australian time I faithfully recorded the magnitude and position plotted by the Jakarta Geophysical Office in Indonesia. An earthquake measuring 6.4 on the Richter scale had hit the north of the Indonesian island of Sumatra. The Jakarta Geophysical Office meticulously noted that the epicenter of the event was located 155 miles south-southwest of Aceh Province.

This location is approximately 250 miles south of the position later selected by the American NOAA, which plotted the epicenter to the north-west of Aceh, and initially claimed a Richter reading of 8.0. Alas, even that was not enough to cover the damage caused by this extraordinary event, so NOAA progressively upgraded the reading to 8.5, then to 8.9, and finally to 9.0 - at least for the present.

So, the first proven irregularities were peddled by American officials at the NOAA, who suddenly invented a new 'flexible' peak seismic wave for the event, of far greater magnitude than Jakarta, when the Jakarta office was located much closer at almost point-blank range. Believe me when I tell you there is no such thing as the new 'flexible' peak claimed by NOAA. The first seismic peak you record is the only real peak, unless of course you later manually draw in a few more peaks of your own, to match a contrived agenda. Naturally there is also only one epicenter, which was faithfully recorded by dozens of Indonesian and Indian seismographs.

Quite apart from the huge disparity in Richter values, the Indonesians and Indians were disturbed to find that the normal earthquake 'preamble' was missing from their seismograph charts. All this means is that the normal steadily increasing number of transverse shear "S" waves that always precede an earthquake were missing, as were later aftershocks, which likewise always accompany a naturally occurring or Tesla standing-wave generated earthquake. There were 'warnings' of aftershocks from the NOAA, but none actually eventuated.

To simplify matters for non-technical readers, an earthquake is always triggered by a resonant electromagnetic frequency in the range 0.5 to 12 Hertz, but it is not an instant process, because the resonant frequency must be precise. Thus as true resonance approaches, the fault line starts to tremble like a piece of rope under tension, and sends out warnings to the seismographs in the form of steadily increasing transverse shear waves.

If all you get is a cluster of "P" compression waves, then you are almost certainly looking at an underground or sub sea explosion. These were in fact the only copious seismic signals that the Indonesians and Indians received, and they looked curiously similar to those generated many years ago by large underground nuclear weapons in Nevada.

So do you get the picture? God showed us the Truth about our Government's "natural disaster" lie, and He even gave me the proof to back it all up. The Asian Tsunami was man-made! That's a fact! It was created by the U.S. Government (President George W. Bush in particular – the United States Armed Forces Commander-in-Chief) to invoke fear in the hearts of the Indonesian Government and make them open the straits of Malacca for U.S. warships. And, of course, the end result of this inhumane atrocity was prophesied by "Prophet James" months before it even happened: "That took care of them!"

I mean, what we have here is a picture of the so-called "Christian" President who rules over our "Christian" Nation – The United States of America. And these are the words that so accurately describe him: "crooked, deceitful, polluted, desperately wicked, incurable, sick, and woeful!"

Now that's the introduction to this message! And here's the rest of the story:

"And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes (G4578), in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows.” (Matthew 24:1-8 KJV)

So, that’s the Scripture and this is the question: “what shall be the sign of Jesus’ coming, and of the end of the world?” And with that question in mind, we’re about to see how the answer Jesus gave His disciples accurately predicts what is taking place today – the “famines, pestilences, and earthquakes” are byproducts of the “nations rising against nations”. And seeing how we’re focusing on the “EARTHQUAKES” in this particular message, here’s the definition of the Greek word “SEISMOS” from which “EARTHQUAKES” was translated:

Earthquakes (G4578) [seismos] - From G4579; a commotion, that is, (of the air) a gale, (of the ground) an earthquake: - earthquake, tempest. (Strong’s Hebrew And Greek Dictionary)

Now isn’t that interesting! Seismos carries a dual meaning! It can either mean violent wind-related storms in the air (tempest) or ground-related upheavals in the earth (earthquakes). In fact, as it pertains to the predictions Jesus gave in His Olivet Discourse of Matthew 24:3-8, the following is just one of the “warning signs” that occurred shortly before the Roman army invaded Jerusalem in 70 AD and destroyed the Temple along with 1,100,000 Jews:

“...for there broke out a prodigious storm in the night, with the utmost violence, and very strong winds, with the largest showers of rain, with continued lightnings, terrible thunderings, and amazing concussions and bellowings of the earth, that was in an earthquake. These things were a manifest indication that some destruction was coming upon men, when the system of the world was put into this disorder; and any one would guess that these wonders foreshowed some grand calamities that were coming.” (The Wars of the Jews, book 4 chapter 4)

You see the preceding eyewitness account was recorded by the Jewish historian Flavius Josephus in his book The Wars of the Jews. What he described was a storm/earthquake type of “natural disaster” brought on by God Almighty to warn His chosen people of their upcoming demise where over 1,100,000 Jews would die.

However, that was then, and this is now. During the time of Jesus, man did not have the power to produce “natural disasters”...but he most certainly does now! I mean, not only can gigantic waves of destruction be produced in the ocean through explosive devices, but man can accomplished even more by radiating power into the earth’s ionosphere. It’s called HAARP, and this is what it’s all about:

HAARP Towers

On a United States Military compound located 200 miles east of Anchorage, Alaska, the Pentagon has erected a powerful transmitter designed to beam more than 1.7 gigawatts (1.7 billion watts) of energy, in the 2.5-10 megahertz frequency range, into the upper reaches of the atmosphere. Known as “Project HAARP” (High Frequency Active Auroral Research), the $30+ million facility is located on a 23-acre lot in a relatively isolated region near the town of Gakona. It contains 180 towers, 72 feet high, which form the “high-power, high-frequency phased array radio transmitter” that works like a radio telescope in reverse – it transmits radio waves instead of receiving them. The radiation produced will first “boil” the upper atmosphere and then bounce back to earth in the form of long waves that can not only penetrate soil, rocks, and bodies of water, but also every living creature on the face of this earth... including humans.

HAARP With 48 Towers - It Now Has 180 Towers

So, why does the Pentagon need HAARP to irradiate the “charged particles of the ionosphere”? Is it to duplicate the natural process that produces the phenomenon known as the Northern Lights?

Well, the following is what Dr. Begich had to say on the subject in his book Angels Don’t Play This HAARP: “...the goal is to learn how to manipulate the ionosphere on a more grand scale than the Soviet Union could do with its similar facilities. HAARP would be the largest ionospheric heater in the world, located in the latitude most conducive to putting Eastlund’s invention into practice.”

Now seeing how Angels Don’t Play This HAARP was published in 1995, we can change Dr. Begich’s wording from “would be” to “is”: HAARP is the largest ionospheric heater in the world. And, of course, that’s the very good reason for the Russian parliament to publish a critical report on HAARP back in August of 2002. In fact the report was written by the Russian “international affairs and defense committees”, and it claimed the following to be factual:

“...the U.S. is creating new integral geophysical weapons that may influence the near-Earth medium with high-frequency radio waves... The significance of this qualitative leap could be compared to the transition from cold steel to firearms, or from conventional weapons to nuclear weapons. This new type of weapons differs from previous types in that the near-earth medium becomes at once an object of direct influence and its component.”

So what do you think about that? It sounds as though the Russians had some serious concerns about HAARP’s potential to produce some horrendous “natural disasters”...and for a very good reason. Because, you see, it was back in 1997 that the United Nation’s “Convention on the Prohibition of Military or Any Other Hostile Use of Environmental Modification Techniques” produced the following treaty:

“ENMOD Convention prohibits the use of techniques that would have widespread, long-lasting or severe effects through deliberate manipulation of natural processes and cause such phenomena as earthquakes, tidal waves, and changes in climate and in weather patterns.

Now it doesn't take a genius to figure out that the United Nations would have never written a treaty such as this unless the technology existed for "man" to produce earthquakes, tidal waves, and changes in the climate and weather patterns.

And with that in mind, let's get back to the question of why does the Pentagon need to irradiate the "charged particles of the ionosphere"?

According to the U.S. Navy and Air Force (co-sponsors of the project), HAARP will be used to introduce small amounts of energy into a specific ionospheric layer (anywhere from several miles to several tens of miles in radius) in order to "understand, simulate and control ionospheric processes that might alter the performance of communications and surveillance systems".

So, that's what they say! However, a series of patents owned by the defense contractor for the HAARP project – ARCO Power Technologies, Inc. (APTI) – suggests that the Pentagon might indeed have more ambitious designs than they would have us to believe. In fact, one of those patents classified by the Navy during the 1980s describes an ionospheric heater very similar to the HAARP heater invented by a Texas physicist, Bernard J. Eastlund. According to the patent, Eastlund's invention would heat plumes of charged particles in the ionosphere and make it possible to do the following:

- Disrupt microwave transmissions of satellites.
- Cause interference or total disruption of communications over a large portion of the earth.
- Cause confusion, interference, or even complete disruption of guidance systems employed by the most sophisticated airplanes and missiles.
- Interfere with third-party communications and use the interrupted beams to carry out a communications network at the same time.
- Pick up communication signals for intelligence purposes.
- Facilitate missile or aircraft destruction, deflection, or confusion by lifting large regions of the atmosphere to create unexpected and unplanned drag forces.
- Modify weather by altering the upper atmospheric wind patterns or solar absorption patterns through artificial heating produced by focusing vast amounts of sunlight on selected portions of the earth.

That is the nature of the beast, but yet HAARP officials deny any link to Eastlund's patents or plans. However, several key details suggest otherwise. For starters, the holder of the Eastlund patents (APTI) managed the HAARP project, which suggests more than just simple atmospheric science went into the design of the HAARP compound. Because, judging from the APTI patent, Nikola Tesla was a major inspiration for Eastlund's ionospheric heater.

So what's the connection? Well, Nikola Tesla was a brilliant inventor and contemporary of Thomas Edison. He developed hundreds of patents during his lifetime, and is often credited with developing the radio instead of Marconi. Tesla also vowed that he had developed a technology that could split the earth asunder, and, of course, herein lies the connection.

In the "References Cited" section of Eastlund's ionospheric heater patent, two of the sources documented are New York Times articles profiling Nikola Tesla. The first article, dated September 22, 1940, reports that Tesla, then 84 years old, "stands ready to divulge to the United States Government the secret of his 'teleforce', with which, he said, airplane motors would be melted at a distance of 250 miles, so that an invisible Chinese Wall of Defense would be built around the country." Quoting Tesla, the Times story continues: "This new type of force, Mr. Tesla said, would operate through a beam one hundred-millionth of a square centimeter in diameter, and could be generated from a special plant that would cost no more than $2,000,000 and would take only about three months to construct."

The second New York Times article listed in the “References Cited” section, dated December 8, 1915, describes one of Tesla’s more well-known patents, a transmitter that would “project electrical energy in any amount to any distance and apply it for innumerable purposes, both in war and peace.”

Tesla's Wardenclyffe Tower In The Early 1900's

Now, I think you’ll agree that Tesla’s ideas are very similar to Eastlund’s invention. In fact the overlap between Tesla’s teleforce ‘war machine’ and HAARP technology is downright scary. And with that in mind, let me give you some frightening proof of it’s reality.

Starting with Rahab Hawa’s article – The Earth As A Weapon In 21st Century Wars – we find the following excerpted information:

In her path-breaking book titled ‘Planet Earth: The Latest Weapon of War’ (2000), Dr Rosalie Bertell cited the weapons of war in the new millennium would involve the use of planet earth itself as a weapon, harnessing the power of natural processes for war.

At the Peoples’ Health Assembly in December 2000 in Dhaka, Bangladesh, Dr. Bertell revealed to a shocked and incredulous audience that ‘the latest weapons in the arsenal of the US military is Planet Earth itself ... and weather will be one of the worst destructive weapons by the year 2025’. Dr. Bertell was referring to how engineered earthquakes and tornadoes could wreak havoc on populations and nations.

According to her book, electromagnetic weapons ‘have the ability to transmit explosive and other effects such as earthquake induction across intercontinental distances to any selected target site on the globe with force levels equivalent to major nuclear explosions’.

For the past 40 years, the US military has conducted experiments on the earth’s atmosphere using waves and chemicals. Attempts to gain control of the weather, through environmental engineering with experiments involving laser and chemicals to ascertain whether they could damage the ozone layer over an enemy; cause damage to crops and human health through exposure to the sun’s ultraviolet rays, have been carried out by the military. According to Dr. Bertell, ‘changes in the earth’s atmosphere bring about corresponding changes in the Earth’s weather and climate’.

Another method is the use of very low frequency electromagnetic waves in weather modification experiments. These waves can pass through solid earth and oceans and have been used by the military to probe the upper atmosphere and the inner structure of the earth. These pulsed, extremely low frequency (ELF) waves, for instance, can be used to convey mechanical effects and vibrations at great distances through the Earth. They can manipulate the weather, creating storms and torrential rains over an area. These waves have the potential to generate earth movements. ‘It has the capability to cause disturbance of volcanoes and tectonic plates, which in turn, have an effect on the weather,’ she states. For example, earthquakes are known to interact with the ionosphere (the atmosphere 50-373 miles above the earth’s surface). In fact, many of the earthquakes that occurred in recent years were preceded by certain unexplained phenomena, says Dr. Bertell.

Some of the examples in her book include the Tang Shan earthquake in China, which occurred on 28 July 1976, and left 650,000 people dead. The catastrophic event was preceded by an airglow, said to have been caused by Soviet ELF wave experiments to heat the ionosphere. The other was the San Francisco earthquake. According to Dr. Bertell, unusual ultra low frequency waves were detected in California on 12 September 1989. These waves grew in intensity and finally subsided on 5 October. On 17 October, they appeared again with signals so strong that they went off the scale. Three hours later, the earthquake took place.

In fact, a Washington Times report in March 1992 said, satellites and ground sensors detected mysterious radio waves or related electrical and magnetic activity before major earthquakes in Southern California, Armenia, Japan and Northern California between 1986 and 1989. The earthquake that hit Los Angeles on 17 January 1994 was also preceded by unusual radio waves and two sonic booms.

‘These strange coincidences have never been explained ... it seems highly probable that some of these earthquakes have been a result of human activity, not natural forces,’ said Dr. Bertell. Tellingly, the US Secretary of Defense, in 1997, commented on new threats posed by terrorist organizations ‘engaging in eco-type terrorism whereby they can alter the climate, set off earthquakes, and volcanoes remotely through the use of electromagnetic waves’. ‘The military has a habit of accusing others of having capabilities they already hold,’ said Dr. Bertell in response.

These experiments by the military on the earth’s atmosphere have seen an increase in freak weather throughout the globe, says Dr. Bertell. ‘Between the 1960s and the 1990s, major natural disaster rates have increased by a factor of 10,’ she adds.

According to her, the EL Nino in 1997-98, which was blamed for abnormal weather conditions worldwide, was actually preceded by violent disruptions and climatic destabilization a year earlier.

In 1996, Dr. Bertell described the severe flooding that occurred in the Indian subcontinent affecting Nepal, India and Bangladesh in which millions were left homeless. In China, floods killed hundreds while tens of thousands had their homes and property destroyed. At the same time, Canada was hit by torrential rains, flooding, tornadoes, hail and thunderstorms - all very abnormal climatic conditions destroying property, livestock and lives. Heavy snowfall, not seen in decades, appeared in South Africa, cutting off food supplies and taking lives due to the extreme cold. During the week ending 19th July, earthquakes rocked the French Alps, Austria, Southern Italy, Northeast India, Japan, Indonesia, the Kamchatka peninsular, and Southern Mexico. In New Zealand, a volcano erupted. Tremors were reported in Kenya, Germany, the Greek Islands, Turkey, northern Sumatra, Bali, the central Philippines, New Zealand’s North Island, eastern Japan, central Chile, El Salvador and the Aleutian Islands, all within the week ending 26 July, she reported. According to her, ‘While some of the events of 1996 may have been ‘acts of God’, certainly, the overall volume and ferocity was anything but normal’.

‘Because of the intimate connection between the Earth’s atmosphere and its weather, it is not surprising to find that military activities have had an impact on local and regional weather patterns,’ she writes. The fact that military activities can cause freak weather by accident as well as deliberately as part of geophysical warfare, is indeed a frightening prospect for the planet. Clearly, ‘the military is also contributing to some of the most intractable survival problems of the twenty-first century,’ she notes.

So what did you think about that? Well, to sum it all up, Dr Rosalie Bertell stated in 2000 that the latest weapons in the arsenal of the US military is Planet Earth itself ... and weather will be one of the worst destructive weapons by the year 2025.

That in a nutshell is what HAARP’s all about, and it’s been gradually coming on since the time of Tesla’s “teleforce” (some 60+ years ago)! But let’s not stop there! Let’s take a look at a few of HAARP’s most recent accomplishments in 2007 and 2008.

Because it was on the 16th of July 2007 that a pair of earthquakes shook Japan’s northwest coast, killing at least 8 and injuring more than 800. Hundreds of buildings were flattened or damaged to some degree, which included the world’s largest nuclear power plant that suffered an equipment fire and radioactive water leak into the Sea of Japan. The first quake was centered off the coast of Niigata. It occurred at 10:13 AM and registered 6.8 on the Richter scale. The second quake of the same magnitude occurred somewhere around midnight just southwest of Niigata.

That was the official story as reported on the national news. And now for the real story as reported from Japan by Benjamin Fulford, former Asia-Pacific Bureau Chief of Forbes Magazine (Benjamin’s not a Christian by any stretch of the imagination, but the following is God’s Truth):

“Last year I confronted Heizo Takenaka, the former Japanese Finance Minister, over why he handed over control of the Japanese financial system to a group of American and European oligarchs. He and his envoy told me that it was because Japan had been threatened by an earthquake machine. I did not believe it at the time. However, when I started exposing some of their doings, I was told by the Japanese security police that because of what I had said on places like “Rense.com” that Niigata the city was going to be hit by an earthquake. Two days later, Japan’s largest nuclear reactor was the exact epicenter of two earthquakes, both 6.8 in magnitude.”

So just what was our U.S. Government trying to do with it’s “earthquake machine”? Was the damage intended to be much more severe than what actually resulted? Was the HAARP attack meant to totally destroy the world’s largest nuclear reactor and contaminate the surrounding area with deadly radiation?

Well, it was in that same YouTube video – Benjamin Fulford Reports From Tokyo: “What Is This?” – where video footage was shown of a mysterious plasma beam (in the shape of a box) trailing an airliner in Japan prior to the 7/16/07 earthquake. What was it? A modern-day “teleforce”? Did the U.S. Government actually miss an intended target? (Watch the video at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=InV0cVH6KZc>.)

But that’s not all! Because in that same YouTube video can be seen footage of strange multicoloured clouds over China’s Sichuan province just minutes before an earthquake struck on the 12th of May 2008. More “smoking gun” proof was that Taiwanese satellites measured a 50% drop in ionospheric energy above the Sichuan epicenter on the day before the quake. It was another HAARP attack! The U.S. Government’s man-made earthquake killed 69,016 innocent people and injured 365,399 more. (See <http://www.china-quake.com/> for more details and pictures that will break your heart.)

This attack was deliberate! It was done to teach China a lesson: OBEY the “New World Order” or China could be destroyed with a weapon that cannot be defended against and which leaves no forensic evidence to PROVE the quake was man-made. In fact the following excerpts from an article by Ethan Hunt give more of the startling details:

HAARP Clouds Over China

China Considers War Against U.S.A. Over Earthquake “Attack.” Photos prove 90 Million Watt, Pulsed, Long-Wave, Radio Waves from HAARP array in Alaska, combined with Pulsed Microwaves from a US Military Satellite in orbit, caused Chinese land to “resonate.” As the land began resonating, it’s own movement tore itself apart, causing the massive earthquake.

Photos from Tianshui city, Gansu province, China -- the city near the epicenter of the quake -- show strange cloud patterns a full two days BEFORE the quake hit. The cloud formations can be seen breaking apart in patterns indicating they were being hit systematically with something from above. The clouds were being affected by the two sets of radio waves. As the waves pounded down from the sky, the clouds broke apart in very orderly fashion; proving that something from above (other than wind) was affecting this specific area of China.

HAARP Rainbow Clouds Over China

Some clouds even contained their own Rainbow! The clouds developed the internal rainbow as they moved into the area being pounded by high-powered radio and microwaves. As they drifted out of the high-powered radio and microwaves, the rainbows suddenly disappeared.

The first impression of these rainbow clouds might be of a circumzenithal halo: a phenomenon created when sunlight shines through cirrus clouds full of tiny hexagonal ice crystals shaped like plates. The crystals behave like glass prisms, splitting the light into a bow with the colours of the spectrum, often brighter than a rainbow. However, the colours in the Chinese clouds were upside down from a normal circumzenithal halo – red pointing towards the horizon and blue towards the Sun, instead of the other way round.” These rainbow clouds were HAARP clouds!

The “long wave” attack originated from the HAARP array in Alaska. These extremely long radio waves were pulsed slowly and traveled deep underground when they hit. The much smaller, pulsed microwaves from a US military satellite, pulsed at a faster rate and, because the wavelength is so much smaller, they did not penetrate deeply into the ground.

Circumzenithal Halo

Long, slower, waves hitting deep; shorter, faster waves hitting shallow. The deep rock began to resonate at one frequency (tempo) and the surface rock/dirt began to resonate at a different, faster rate.

The two separate rates of resonation, for two consecutive days, caused literally BILLIONS of tons of dirt and rock to begin subtly, gently, almost imperceptibly slapping against each other within the ground! With all that weight hitting itself it wouldn't - and didn't - take long for a key geological lock to be crushed, allowing a sudden movement of a large land area underground, which was felt as a massive earthquake at the surface. When billions of tons of rock and earth suddenly moves one inch, the resulting shock wave is felt as a HUGE earthquake.

So there you have it: "Nation Against Nation, And Earthquakes In Divers Places!" And even though there is much more I could include concerning the "natural disaster" attacks by the U.S. Government's on it's own people, I won't. However, what I will do is include a few facts on one particular HAARP disaster that had absolutely nothing to do with either earthquakes or weather. The name of the Web site is "Columbia's Sacrifice" (<http://www.columbiassacrifice.com>), and the following is a very small sample of the documentation that explains how the Space Shuttle Columbia was made a sacrifice:

On February 1, 2003 the Space Shuttle OV-102 Columbia broke apart during reentry and took with it the lives of seven astronauts. The resulting debris field spread across several states and possibly a portion of the Pacific Ocean as well. This tragedy left not only an extended debris field and grieving families, but also left many questions in the minds of those who witnessed it in person as well as on TV. As a mechanical engineer with an aerospace background, I believe that there are aspects of the events that took place between 8:45 and 9:00 a.m. Est. on February 1st that do not appear to fit the theories NASA is currently making public. Neither damaged tiles, missing tiles, or a breach of the shuttles wing itself adequately explain the chain of events that led to the final catastrophic breakup of the orbiter.

A comprehensive overview of scientific documents on the subject of recreating the Electro Magnetic Pulse (EMP) effect for the purpose of missile defense as well as the actual United States Patent, (No. 5,038,664), for the transmission system used at the HAARP research facility located in Alaska and operated by the Navy and Air Force shows that it is capable of producing a field of high speed relativistic particles in the upper atmosphere exactly where the Columbia would pass through during reentry.

A log kept by researcher Marshall Smith indicates that the HAARP transmitter was operating in "Missile Defense Mode", for 90 minutes before Columbia passed through its field of influence and for 90 minutes after...

So, what you have just read is the truth of the Space Shuttle Columbia's demise...and it confirms what the Lord told me after having read the following news report:

NEWS BRIEF: February 3, 2003 - "Photos show odd images near shuttle"

[<http://www.sfgate.com/cgi-bin/article.cgi?f=/c/a/2003/02/02/MN221641.DTL>]

A San Francisco amateur astronomer who photographs the space shuttles whenever their orbits carry them over the Bay Area has captured five strange and provocative images of the shuttle Columbia just as it was re-entering the Earth's atmosphere before dawn Saturday. The pictures, taken with a Nikon 8 camera on a tripod, reveal what appear to be bright electrical phenomena flashing around the track of the shuttle's passage, but the photographer, who asked not to be identified, will not make them public immediately. "They clearly record an electrical discharge like a lightning bolt flashing past, and I was snapping the pictures almost exactly . . . when the Columbia may have begun breaking up during re-entry," he said. The photographer invited The Chronicle to view the photos on his computer screen Saturday night, and they are indeed puzzling. They show a bright scraggly flash of orange light, tinged with pale purple, and shaped somewhat like a deformed L. The flash appears to cross the Columbia's dim contrail, and at that precise point, the contrail abruptly brightens and appears thicker and somewhat twisted as if it were wobbling. "I couldn't see the discharge with own eyes, but it showed up clear and bright on the film when I developed it," the photographer said.

You see it was after having read the preceding news report that the Lord told me "The Space Shuttle Columbia was shot down by the U.S. Government." I knew who did it, but I didn't understand how they did it until He recently directed me to the "Columbia's Sacrifice" Web site. However, the question still remained as to why the U.S. Government would shoot down it's very own Space Shuttle.

Well, there were many assorted reasons for our President – George W. Bush – to give the orders that turned on the HAARP and brought down the Space Shuttle Columbia, but the most important one was for the sacrificing of seven (7) innocent people. Because you see George W. Bush belongs to the religion of "Skull And Bones". He is not a Believer in Jesus Christ (a Christian) as he claims to be, but, on the contrary, George W. Bush worships the fallen angel Lucifer (Satan).

George W. Bush is a member of the occult. His efforts as President have done much to bring about the "One World Government" and "One World Religion" of the Antichrist. In order for George W. Bush to receive the power to accomplish all the evil that he has done, he has had to purchase it through the lives of the innocent.

The Space Shuttle Columbia tragedy occurred on Saturday, the 1st of February. This date on the Satanic calendar was Imbolg [also Imbolc], the first of eight annual Satanic Sabbats that require human sacrifices. The highest sacrifice that can be offered is the killing of an innocent victim, as was the case with the astronauts.

"Imbolc is the fire festival between Yule and the vernal equinox. The day of Imbolc is also that of her saintly aspect, St. Bridhe or Brigid of Ireland. This is a time of clear vision into other worlds, expressed by festivals of purification. On 1 February is the celebration of the cross-quarter day or fire festival, Imbolc ... It is followed on the 2nd by its Christian counterpart, Candlemass, the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary." [The Pagan Book of Days, by Nigel Pinnick, p. 37-38]

Furthermore, February the 1st fell on the night of the New Moon! In the occult, the best time to cast an evil spell is on the night of the New Moon, the darkest night of the month.

The sacrifice of the Space Shuttle Columbia "7" was the ultimate offering for Satan, and it gave George W. Bush the power to start a war that should have never been! Iraq!

Check out "The Bush-Nazi Connection" at "<http://www.brasschecktv.com/page/263.html>" for more information on George W. Bush and his Satanic bloodline, and "The Fascist Blueprint" presentation by Naomi Wolf at "<http://www.brasschecktv.com/page/177.html>". I guarantee it will blow you away!

So, "what shall be the sign of Jesus' coming, and of the end of the world?"

"For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

The time of the Antichrist is fast approaching...and you really don't want to get left behind! Get your house in order! Keep on keeping the faith in Jesus!!!
